In the post-cold war and particularly the post-9/11 era the term has been nation-building effort in Iraq without the authorisation of the UN Security Council. In asserting this linkage, Blair's "doctrine of international community" gave new life to the idea of state-building. The geopolitics of...